

Press Release 5 December 2011

Shipleys London office principal Nancy Cruickshanks is the general editor of a new Lexis Nexis Publication 'VAT in the EU'.

LexisNexis® offers world-class content, information analytics and workflow solutions for professionals in the legal, accounting and other markets – to make their jobs faster, easier and more productive. It is well known as a leading publisher of authoritative technical information for the accounting and taxation industries.

Nancy co-ordinated the input of contributions from European members of AGN, the worldwide association of separate and independent accounting and consulting firms, ranked the fourth largest accounting association in the world by International Accounting Bulletin magazine.

VAT in the EU offers a country by country guide on all 27 EU member states. The book includes sections on:

1. Key data;
2. Getting started;
3. Domestic supplies;
4. Intra EU;
5. Exports & imports;
6. Reporting Obligations;
7. Special schemes;
8. Penalties and interest;
9. VAT refunds;
10. Closing down

Nancy Cruickshanks said: "I was privileged to be asked by Lexis Nexis, publishers of the well known and highly regarded Tolleys books, to compile and edit their guide to VAT in the EU. I am very pleased with the book and would like to thank the other members of AGN without whose generous assistance this would not have been possible"

The book has been endorsed by the Institute of Indirect Taxation and received glowing reviews, including one from Phillip Taylor MBE and Elizabeth Taylor of Richmond Green who said "Nancy Cruickshanks is to be congratulated for compiling and editing a work which largely transforms the often frustrating quest for accurate VAT information across the EU into the simple matter of referring to this one handy guide."

It is available from Lexis Nexis ISBN/ISSN: 9780754540144 priced at £144.95.
